

Industry Insights: Direct to Patient Sample Distribution in the Time of COVID-19

The Sharing Alliance is dedicated to educating its members and improving compliance best practices within pharma, biotech, and medical device companies. To that aim, we are sharing a reprint of an article developed by thought leaders at one of our vendor sponsor companies, Knipper Health. As a service to the industry, we are making this article available to all industry professionals, including those outside our membership. Please note that this article is reprinted with the permission of the Food and Drug Law Institute.

The article provides insight into how the Public Health Emergency (PHE) affected the landscape of Direct to Patient sampling during the pandemic and how the landscape may change once the PHE expires. The paper was created by John Petrolino, General Counsel at Knipper Health, and John Maher, Deputy General Counsel & Privacy Officer at Knipper Health. John Petrolino will be attending the upcoming Sharing Conference and will be available to discuss the contents of the paper and other compliance topics with interested parties.

DOWNLOAD PAPER

ATTEND THE SHARING CONFERENCE NEXT MONTH IN SAN DIEGO AND BECOME A SHARING ALLIANCE MEMBER

Interested in three days of learning and sharing compliance best practices? Register to attend the conference here. Conference registration includes membership in the Sharing Alliance and access to our complete library of content.

As your primary information channel for important pharmaceutical, medical device and biotech compliance news, the Alliance keeps you informed on related events at both the state and federal levels. Remember to visit the Alliance website regularly. Once you become a member of the Alliance, you have free access to important compliance information in our password protected Members Only section. Remember to add www.sharingalliance.org to your browser favorites. To ensure that you continue to receive news and communications from us, please add mail@sharingalliance.org to your email program's safe sender list.

Connect With Us

