Changing Behavior through Engaging Compliance Training

Presented by:

Julianne Brierley

Director, Head, ERC Learning
ETHICS, RISK & COMPLIANCE / US PHARMA
Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corporation

Do you need to change BELIEFS before you change BEHAVIOR?

In this new-to-our-agenda workshop "Changing Behavior through Engaging Compliance Training", industry training expert Julianne Brierley will be giving attendees a look into the development of compliance training that actually works for the long haul.

If your goal is to encourage long-term training retention, and to create behavior change, then how you deliver your training is just as important as the training itself. In this engaging new learning session, Ms. Brierley will show you how to move beyond completion as the sole goal of compliance training.

Discussion will include what you need to know to deliver impactful, engaging and measurable training to the right people, at the right time, all the while working toward an end goal of successful long-lasting results.

Pharma industry attendees, if you haven't already registered for the 2024 Sharing Conference, please do so now, while Early Bird rates are still in effect. And don't forget, when 3 attendees from the same company register, one more may come for free.
