

The Sharing Alliance welcomes back the DEA to discuss:

Where Are We Now?

An overview of the current opioid crisis, DEA's latest initiatives and a variety of diversion-related topics

Presented by:

Niketa G. Prince

Staff Coordinator (DI)

HQ Liaison Section

Diversion Control Division

Drug Enforcement Administration

As many of you may know, the mission of DEA's Diversion Control Division is to prevent, detect, and investigate the diversion of controlled pharmaceuticals and listed chemicals from legitimate sources while ensuring an adequate and uninterrupted supply for legitimate medical, commercial, and scientific needs. Under federal law, all businesses that import, export, manufacture, or distribute controlled substances must register with the DEA and must comply with regulatory requirements relating to drug security and record-keeping for controlled substances.

These regulations can sometimes be as confusing to well-seasoned professionals as they are to those who are new to working with controlled substances. This session will provide conference attendees with an opportunity to hear what's new and get answers to questions they might find challenging.

Questions submitted in advance of the General Session will be answered during the time allotted for discussion. Details on how to send in anonymous questions or submit them at the conference will be emailed to registered attendees in May.
